

The "M. S. M." Overcoat Is the Prince of Overcoats.

A Garment of Style,
Grace, and Character.

The "Man's Store Make" Overcoat is a work of sartorial art—with an originality of style conception and a strength and grace of line that marks it as a masterpiece of clothes-building. The manly mold of the shoulder—the snug-fitting collar—the flat smooth lapel, and the graceful drape of the skirt are distinguishing features of a coat that reflects equal satisfaction to the wearer and the maker.

The fabrics are the best that money can buy. The colorings are rich and exclusive—blacks and blues for the more conservative dressers—and handsome warm-looking colorings in fancy gray and brown weaves for the young man or the man who wants to look young.

Without question the greatest line of Overcoats in Washington at $15 to $45.

And every coat insured by the guarantee of "Money's Worth or Money Back."

Subscriptions to the guarantee fund of the retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce for its out-of-town shopping plan, are rapidly coming in. Merchants generally are responding, and genuine interest is being taken in the work. Subscriptions from merchants amounting to $90 were reported by Charles F. Wallraff, secretary of the committee, last night, in addition to those reported in The Washington Herald yesterday.

The movement to induce out-of-town shoppers to come to Washington has gained large proportions.

Vice Chairman Galt Happy.
Norman Galt, vice chairman of the committee, yesterday was very enthusiastic over the progress of the work. Said he: "This is an enterprise affecting not only the members of the Chamber of Commerce, but all of Washington. I believe that it is the foundation of a permanent campaign to enlarge the city's retail business. Other large cities of the country and those much smaller than Washington successfully carry on such work and gain for the merchants of the city a great volume of business from out of town that would otherwise not be attracted. There is no reason in the world why Washington cannot have the trade, at least at certain parts of the year, of people from the surrounding towns and cities. Washington merchants, especially at this time of the year, have unusually large and attractive displays. There is no other city south of Philadelphia that has the Christmas shopper such inducements as Washington does. I believe we are going to be successful in our efforts, not only at this time, but permanently."

Circular Letter Sent Out.
The following letter was sent to each member of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. This letter was ordered to be sent to the members at a meeting of the committee on Friday:

Dear Sir: At a meeting of the executive committee of the retail trade committee, held Friday afternoon, the writer was directed to send a letter to every member of the Chamber of Commerce, inviting him to lend his assistance, financial and moral, to the efforts being made to bring to Washington during the first two weeks in December a great number of shoppers from towns and cities in the surrounding States.

At the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday, November 12, Mr. Norman Galt's report as vice chairman, which was enthusiastically received and endorsed, contained the following paragraph: "Our committee would suggest that each member of the Chamber of Commerce be hereby empowered a committee of one, with authority to act and invite all Washingtonians to aid in the success of this movement and participate in its benefits. It is not necessary that one should be a member of the Chamber of Commerce in order to take part in this enterprise, the success of which will reflect credit on every citizen."

The merchants participating in the plan, already over sixty in number, will stand the expense of relating the fares of those who come to Washington to do their Christmas shopping. The committee feels, however, that this is a movement affecting all of Washington, and especially the members of the Chamber, and that the assistance and support of every member should be given, especially at this time, when a great deal of work and expense is necessary.

One should be sent immediately to Charles F. Wallraff, secretary of the committee, 1235 G street, and checks made payable to A. Lissner, treasurer. Return envelope enclosed.

May we not count upon you for whatever assistance you may feel able to render?

Yours, respectfully,
GEORGE H. GALL,
Manager Retail Trade Committee.

League Holds Meeting.
The Epworth League of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church held its regular monthly business meeting on the evening of November 11. Favorable reports were received from the various departments, showing the league to be in a most excellent condition, especially the good work being reported by the Mercy and Help missionary departments.

The latter department has two mission study classes, which are now taking up the study of China. The league made an appropriation for the famine at present causing much distress in India. Ten new members were added to the roll.

Funeral of Mrs. A. M. Williams.
The funeral of Mrs. Anna M. Williams, wife of Sergt. J. A. Williams, of the Third regiment, was held yesterday at her late home, Thirty-fourth street northwest. Later, requiem masses were said by Rev. Father Brice at the Holy Trinity Church. Interment was in Glenwood.

Mrs. Williams, who was thirty-nine years of age, died Thursday as the result of internal injuries received some time ago in a fall.

Affirmative Side Wins.
At the National University Law School, Thirteenth street, between H and I streets northwest, last evening, a debate was held, the subject, "Resolved, that Congress should adopt a policy of, and make appropriations for, extension of deep waterways and canals." The judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Abrams Entertain Many Friends at Their Home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Abrams celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Thursday evening at their home, 1339 Corcoran street northwest. Both are descendants of old New York families and were married at Middleburg, N. Y., November 14, 1877, by Rev. Edwin Vedder. The family moved to this city in the early seventies. Mr. Abrams was connected with the board of public works, and laid the first concrete pavement in this city in front of the Arlington Hotel, in 1871. He is a Scottish Rite Mason, member of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association, and veteran of the civil war. The surviving children, Mr. G. G. Abrams and Mrs. H. D. Dickson, were present, as were also the grandchildren, G. Raymond Dickson, Jessie L. Dickson, and George Abrams, Jr. After a social evening adjourned to the dining room, where a collation was served. The couple received many gifts. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Piper, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Cushman, Ewell Cashell, Miss Flora Smith, of Waterfall, Va.; Miss Nora V. Choate, Miss Marie Prince, Dr. Eslin, Mr. Rheese, Mr. Coleman, Mr. Tracy, Mr. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Abrams, and Mr. H. D. Dickson.

DEATH OF MONCURE CONWAY.

Remains Probably Will Be Brought From Paris to Virginia.

The remains of Moncure D. Conway, who died yesterday in Paris, will probably be taken to Fredericksburg, Va., his former home, for burial. One brother, P. V. D. Conway, is president of a bank at Fredericksburg, and a sister, Mrs. A. March, lives in Easton, Pa. He is also survived by two children.

Mr. Conway was born in Stafford County, Va., in 1832. He studied for the Methodist ministry, but became a Unitarian, took a Harvard degree, and once held a pulpit in Washington. Dismissal resulted from his pronounced utterances against slavery, and he later published a paper in Boston. He was noted as a lecturer and writer, and his "autobiography," published in 1904, recalls Emerson, Walt Whitman, Longfellow, Browning, Dickens, and others.

STATE SOCIETY MEETS.

Mississippians Enjoy Programme at the Pythian Temple.

The regular monthly meeting of the Mississippi Society was held last evening at Pythian Temple, a large crowd being present for the entertaining programme which was rendered by members of the society.

Among the features of the programme were the recitations of Mrs. J. E. Cotton, the vocal selections of Miss Loretta Tunash, of the Belmont Seminary; the rendition of "Mississippi Coot" by Helen Morris, Grace and Esther Johnson, and Frank Norris, accompanied by Miss Julia McCollins, and the piano and violin duet by Mrs. C. W. Marcock and Mr. Arthur Smith.

HOLY NAME TO ENTERTAIN.

Catholic Society Arranging for Gala Affair on November 22.

The regular monthly meeting of the District Union of the Holy Name Society was held Wednesday evening, in St. Joseph's School hall, with President T. K. Gallaher in the chair.

The committee on entertainment, appointed at last meeting, reported that arrangements have been completed for a grand rally of all the members of the society throughout the District, as well as all others who wish to become members, to be held in St. Dominic's School hall, Sixth and E streets southwest, on Friday, November 22.

The entertainment will include vocal and musical numbers, and an address by Rev. Father Noon.

JUDGE McCOMAS WILL.

Property Left to His Widow and Only Daughter.

A special dispatch from Hagerstown to the Baltimore Sun last Friday states the will of the late Judge Louis E. McComas will be probated in about ten days in this city, where the bulk of his estate is located.

He left his property to his only daughter, Mary Edgar, wife of C. Goodlove Edgar, of Detroit, Mich., and his widow, Hebe Harrison McComas; but in what proportion not definitely known. His son-in-law, Mr. Edgar, is named as his executor.

Single Tax Club Meets.

The November meeting of the Woman's Single Tax Club of the District was held with Mr. and Mrs. George H. Shubley at their apartments in the Ontario. Miss Flora Raymond having resigned the recording secretaryship, Mrs. William D. McKenzie was elected to fill the vacancy, and Mrs. George H. Davis was elected vice president in Mrs. Mackenzie's place.

The music of the evening was furnished by Miss Lee Patterson, whose piano solo was her own composition.

Regular Session Held.

The Biological Society of Washington held its four hundred and thirty-fourth regular meeting last night in the Assembly Hall of the Cosmos Club. The society was entertained by Barton W. Evermann, with an address on "Fresh-water mussels and the pearl-button industry," illustrated with specimens. Mr. Evermann explained how the buttons were made from the mussels.

Funeral of Mrs. Fracker.

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Willard Fracker, widow of T. L. Fracker, a native of Parkersburg, W. Va., who died Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Grey Douglass, 1730 Eighteenth street, will be held to-morrow afternoon in St. Thomas Church. Mrs. Fracker was eighty years old, and is survived by three children.
